Episcopalians to celebrate the Epiphany

The Feast of the Epiphany, January 6, recalling the manifestation of Jesus as the light of the world in the story of the star which guided the Wise Men, will be celebrated in Trinity Episcopal Church, Statesboro, beginning with a parish supper in the parish hall at 6:30 on Thursday on Thursday, January 5, the eve of the feast. Following the supper those assembled will remove all the Christmas decorations from Trinity Church, marking the conclusion of the 12 days of Christmas. The decorations will be burned in an Epiphany Bonfire which will symbolize Christ, the light of the world.

The parish supper will take the place of the January meeting of the Men's Club of Trinity Church, which usually meets on first Thursday evenings.

Friday, January 6, the feast of the Epiphany will be celebrated with a said celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 10 o'clock in the morning.

The Rev. Father Robert E. H. Peoples, vicar of Trinity Church, announced that all members and friends of Trinity Church are invited to participate in the observance of Epiphany.

Members of Trinity Church gathered recently on December 23 for a parish supper after which the church was decorated for the Christmas celebration. The celebration of Christmas begins with the annual Midnight Mass at 11:30 on Christmas Eve and continues for 12 days thereafter.

Beginning Sunday, January 8, vicar will recommence the Sunday evening study classes on the Holy Scriptures, following evensong at 8 o'clock each Sunday.

Dr. Carruth dies in McComb, Miss.

Joseph Enoch Carruth, 74, former Georgia Teachers College professor, died unexpectedly December 26, at his home in McComb, Miss.

Dr. Carruth, affectionately known as "Doctor Joe" to GTC students held the position of professor of education at the Statesboro college from 1928 to 1947, when he retired and returned to his native state of Mississippi. Dr. Carruth was a graduate of Millsaps College, Jackson, Miss., and received his masters degree at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. He was a life-long member of the Methodist Church, serving for a number of years as steward and teacher in churches in towns where he resided.

Burial was in Summit, Miss.

DRYGOODS STORES OPEN AND CLOSING HOURS FOR 1956

Announcement is made this week that the drygoods stores in Statesboro will observe the following opening and closing hours adopted in a meeting held on Tuesday of this week:

Weekdays, open at 9 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. Saturdays, open at 9 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Training school for Methodists

The Bulloch County Christian Workers Training School for all Methodist Churches in the county will be held at the First Methodist Church in Statesboro, January 8 through 10.

The first session of the school will be held from 3 to 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, January 8, and the other two sessions will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 on Monday and Tuesday nights, January 9 and 10.

The school is sponsored by the Commissions on Education of the various Methodist churches of the county. There is a course to meet the needs of every Methodist, regardless of their position in the church.

Harwell C. Ozburn, left, formerly of Statesboro, has been named new general claim agent for the Central of Georgia Railway, with headquarters in Savannah. He succeeded George S. Gailard, right, who retired January 1, after 52 years of continuous service with the company. Mr. Ozburn worked at the Central's office here before he went to Savannah about 1936. He was born at Mansfield, Ga. and has more than 30 years of service with the Central, including assignments in telegraphing, traffic department, and claim activities. He is a member of the Savannah and Georgia Bar associations.

Jaycees seek BC's best young farmer

Plans to select the community's outstanding young farmer for 1955 were announced today by G. C. Coleman Jr., president of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The selection for the outstanding young farmer of Bulloch county will be part of an annual nation-wide search to select and honor the nation's four outstanding young farmers of 1955, conducted annually by the U. S. Jaycees in co-operation with the American Petroleum Institute Committee on Agriculture.

Any successful farm operator who derives two-thirds of his annual income from farming and is between the ages of 21-35 will be eligible for the award, according to Mr. Coleman.

Based on judging will be outstanding progress in farming and contributions made to community betterment and conservation practices. A panel of leading community agricultural leaders will be named to make the selection.

Anyone desiring to nominate a candidate can obtain a nomination blank from the county agent's office, from W. C. Hodges, president of the Bulloch County Farm Bureau, or from the various community Farm Bureau presidents. Deadline for entries in the community program is January 13, 1956. There is not too much time so the Jaycees ask that your nominations be sent in as soon as possible.

Inman Foy Jr., general chairman for the Jaycees ask that all entries be mailed either to Mr. Byron Dyer, county agent, or direct to the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Foy stated that Bulloch county's outstanding farmer will be honored at a Jaycee meeting on January 24 at the Forest Heights Country Club, at which time a special award will be given.

Bulloch gets 34.91 inches of rain in 1955; normal is 57.55 inches

Bulloch county got 8.17 inches more rain during the 12 months of 1955 than during the 12 months of 1954, according to records kept by the Bulloch Herald.

The total rainfall for 1954 was 26.74 inches. The total for 1955 was 34.91 inches. The normal rainfall for the county for a year is 47.55 inches.

Bulloch County's greatest rainfall, in any one month since 1908 was in 1929 when 24.34 inches fell during the month of September. The greatest rainfall in any one day fell on September 26, 1929, when 12.75 inches fell. The day before, on September 25, 4.06 inches fell. 71.35 inches fell during the entire year, 23.80 over the normal rainfall of 47.55 inches.

The county's driest spell came in November 1931, when there was not a single cloudy day and not a drop of rain fell. During the three-month period, September, October and November, 1931, there was not a single cloudy day and only .97 inches of rain was recorded. 1954's 26.74 inches is the driest year during which records have been kept since 1908. June of 1954 saw only .99 inches of rain, being the driest month of that year. March of 1955 recorded only .17 inches. November, 22 inches, and December, 44 inches.

The monthly rainfall and the monthly normal for 1954 and 1955 as recorded by Mr. W. C. Cromley, official weather observer for the U. S. Weather Bureau was as follows:

Month	1954	1955	Nor.
Jan.	1.22	4.04	3.01
Feb.	1.33	1.63	3.91

Ministers finish radio project for hospital

Members of the Bulloch County Protestant Ministerial Association recently completed their 1955 project of securing 31 radios for the free use of patients in the Bulloch County Hospital. A total of 31 radios, seven equipped with specially designed speakers which can be placed under the bed pillow of patients in wards so as not to disturb the other patients, have now been delivered into the custody of the authorities of the Bulloch County Hospital.

Members of the committee appointed by the Rev. C. L. Goss, pastor of the Brooklet Baptist Church and president of the association, to complete the project were: the Rev. W. Lacey Huggins, Pastor of Eason's Chapel, Register, chairman; the Rev. William J. Erwin, pastor of the Statesboro Methodist Church and the Rev. Dr. Leslie Williams, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Assisted by the Rev. J. W. Grooms, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church and the Rev. Father Robert E. H. Peoples, Vicar of Trinity Episcopal Church and secretary-treasurer of the association, the committee dedicated the radios in a special radio program on Friday, December 23, in the studios of Radio Station WWSN, Statesboro. The Rev. Mr. Huggins directed the dedicatory service, introducing the Rev. Mr. Grooms who offered the invocation.

The following list of individuals or firms who contributed one new radio, or a portion of one radio, was read by the Rev. Father Peoples: R. L. Anderson, Lehman Franklin, Howard Lumber Company, Hagin and Olliff, Eason's Chapel, Hoke S. Brunson, W. C. Atkins and Son, Parker's Stockyard, Producers Cooperative Livestock Exchange, Joseph Neville, Walter Olsen, E. A. Smith Grain Co., Sea Island Bank, Mrs. Rena Querry, Curtis Youngblood, Loy Waters, Clyde Mitchell and the Treasure Seekers Sunday school. Class of the Methodist Church. Also, the following list of firms which contributed at least two radios each was read: Home Furnishing Company, H. Minkovitz and Sons, Bowen Furniture Co., Statesboro Lodge No. 1788 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and the Bulloch County Bank.

In addition many individuals contributed to the project through the offerings received at the Annual Thanksgiving Day Union Service and the Annual Christmas program of the Statesboro Music Club.

The Rev. W. J. Erwin then outlined briefly the story of how the project was conceived and brought to its happy and successful conclusion.

The Rev. Dr. Leslie Williams offered the dedicatory prayer and the program was ended by the Rev. Mr. Huggins. These radios are now in the custody of the Bulloch County Hospital for the free use of such patients therein as desire them. Each radio will be charged to the patient until he returns it to the proper hospital official before being discharged from the hospital.

Farm outlook helps Bulloch farmers plan 1956 program

By BYRON DYER, County Agent

More than a score of specialists on the College of Agriculture Extension Service staff have studied the state and national farm situation and come up with outlook information designed to help Georgia and Bulloch county families plan 1956 farm and home programs.

Rites held for Remer Clifton

Remer Clifton, 62, died suddenly Friday night, December 30, at his home near Leefield. A son of the late W. W. Clifton and Sara Wiggins Clifton, he was a lifelong resident of Bulloch county. He was a prominent farmer of the Leefield community and a member of the Brooklet Christian Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Hattie Ardenia Morris Clifton; two sons, Henry E. Clifton and William P. Clifton, all of Leefield; six grandchildren; five brothers, P. W. Clifton of Stillson, William Clifton and George W. Clifton, both of Statesboro; Robert Clifton of Savannah; two sisters, Mrs. Alice Clark of Savannah and Mrs. Annie Waters of Statesboro; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Sunday at the New Hope Methodist Church, conducted by the Rev. Harry J. Berry of Savannah and the Rev. Ernest Veal of Brooklet. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Pallbearers were nephews, Dan Hagan, Albert Clifton, Tom Clark and Harold Waters.

Honorary pallbearers were C. B. McAllister, Horace Smith, Billy Tillman, F. C. Parker Sr., Joe Tillman, Don Thompson, Emitt Atkins, Lehman Franklin, Hoke Brunson, Hoke Brannen, Olin Lanier, C. P. Olliff Jr., Bob Pound, A. B. McDougald, Sidney Lanier, Cliff Bradley, Dew Groover, Julian Tillman, Kermit Carr, J. B. Gaudry, Jim Clark, Felton Lanier, Fred T. Lanier, J. H. Palmer, Don Thompson, Robbie Belcher, Harry Lee, Jack Morton and Buck Lee.

Barnes Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Presented at six agricultural outlook meetings, one in each extension district, the information has been compiled in one report and is available from county and home demonstration agents.

W. A. Sutton, associate Extension Service director, said the thinking of experts in practically every field of agriculture and home economics—agronomy, forestry, livestock, marketing, engineering, home improvement, nutrition, clothing, housing, health and others—went into the report.

The extension workers point out that Georgia farmers will enter 1956 with record supplies of most of their products already in the markets or in stocks held in government price support programs. "This condition continues to exist," the specialists explain, "despite the partially offsetting effects of increased exports and continuing strong consumer demands."

They say prices of the major crops and the incomes of the farmers producing these crops are expected to be somewhat lower next year. They add, however, that the drop in prices from 1955 to 1956 will probably be less than that from 1954 to 1955.

Yields of major crops in Georgia set new records in 1955, and, according to the report, production in 1956 should be somewhere near 1955 levels. "But cutbacks in allotted crops, continuing high production costs and the possibility of somewhat lower support prices indicate that the cost-price squeeze of the past several years will still be with us," the report states.

An encouraging feature is the prospect for continuing strong demand for consumer goods in 1956. The extension staff members say this observation is borne out by such things as increases in consumer income,

'Pete' Donaldson gets agricultural honor

George "Pete" Donaldson, president of Abraham Baldwin College, Tifton, Ga., and a native of Statesboro and Bulloch county, has been chosen "The Man of the Year in Service to Georgia Agriculture" by the Progressive Farmer Magazine, according to an announcement made recently by Alexander Nunn, the magazine's editor.

"PETE" DONALDSON

Sr. Tri-Hi-Y holds meeting

By ANN MC DOUGALD

The monthly meeting of the Statesboro Senior Tri-Hi-Y was held on December 19, at Statesboro High School. President Judy Williams presided over the meeting. Roll call and minutes were given by secretary Sandra Harrison. Mrs. Wendzel, club sponsor, gave a report on the State "Y" News Letter. The Statesboro Senior Tri-Hi-Y has a total of 195 points, which is a very high rating.

Plans for the White Christmas to be held in chapel the following day were discussed. Club members brought children's Bible story books which are to be placed in the boxes. Penny Rimes volunteered to carry the club box in chapel.

The program was opened with a devotion by Ann Bowen. She read the Christmas Story from St. Luke. Prayer was led by Mrs. Wendzel. "Open the Door to Christmas," an article which discussed the meaning of keeping Christmas, was given by Rose Franklin, program chairman.

The meeting was adjourned following the "Y" benediction.

Mr. Donaldson's keen interest in rural youth has led him to work not only with young people at Abraham Baldwin, but also with rural youth organizations throughout Georgia. Honorary life memberships in the 4-H Club, the Future Farmers of America, and the Future Homemakers of America, bespeak their appreciation of him.

One of Georgia's best known speakers, Mr. Donaldson has played a tremendous part in interesting non-rural people in agricultural problems, and the Progressive Farmer said that because of this he is often called "Dixie's Ambassador of Agriculture to the Business and Banking World."

Mr. Donaldson went to Tifton in 1933 to head the English department at Abraham Baldwin, which had just been set up as a junior college of the University System of Georgia. He was later made executive dean, and was elected president of the college in 1947.

"Pete," as he is known in Bulloch county and in all Georgia, is a Rotarian, having served as district governor of District 241, Rotary International, a Baptist lay leader, and is on the board of directors of the Tift County Chamber of Commerce.

While he lived in Statesboro he served in the Georgia Legislature. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia and holds his MA degree from Ohio State. He is married to the former Miss Holly Twitty, formerly of Pelham. They have two sons, George P. Jr. of Dallas, Texas, and William T. of Aiken, S. C.

STANDARD TRACTOR AND EQUIPMENT CO. MOVES TO NEW LOCATION

L. E. Tyson announced this week that he has moved the Standard Tractor and Equipment Company from West Main street to his new location on U. S. 80, east of Statesboro, near the city limits.

Mr. Tyson is the oldest Ford tractor dealer in Georgia, having been selling Ford tractors since 1939. For the past eight years he was located on West Main street. He is featuring plenty of parking space at the new location. He stated that he will hold "open house" in the near future and will announce the date later.

Gordon Hendrix dies December 31

Funeral services for Gordon F. Hendrix, 54, of the Portals community, who died at an early hour last Saturday morning in the Bulloch County Hospital, were held Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. at the Portals Baptist Church. Elder J. Walter Hendrix, assisted by the Rev. C. K. Everett, conducted the services. Burial was in East Side Cemetery, Statesboro.

Mr. Hendrix is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruby Wood Hendrix; his mother, Mrs. John M. Hendrix, Portals; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Stevenson, Cincinnati, Ohio and Mrs. Johnnie Jones, Bloomingdale; a son, John Alec Hendrix of Statesboro; one sister, Mrs. Arson Woods, Twin City; and six grandchildren.

Smith-Tillman Mortuary was in charge of the arrangements.

Editorials

It will soon be 'our company' too

When the stockholders of the Bulloch County Development Corporation met last Thursday to authorize the sale of our manufacturing plant to the Rockwell Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh, there was not a dissenting voice to the action.

The feeling of disappointment was keen in the county when the General Instrument Corporation announced in August that because of a consolidation program they had decided not to use our plant.

Immediately the officers and board of directors of the development corporation began seeking a desirable corporation to use the beautiful facility which had been built on U. S. 301.

Now comes the announcement that the Rockwell Manufacturing Company has purchased the building and will move to Statesboro and there is a new feeling in the community.

We are pleased that the Rockwell company is coming here because of the reason they offer for choosing us.

Mr. W. E. Rockwell Jr., president of the company, put it this way:

"One of our men is fond of saying, (in male company) that choosing a plant site is much like choosing a wife: mistakes are not only costly but extremely hard to live with. Which is why we always approach the problem with a great deal of care, and use the counsel of outside plant location specialists."

Mr. Rockwell went on to say that in the final selection of a community, "it is an intangible that weighs heaviest with us: COMMUNITY ATTITUDE. Does the community want industry?" He added, "It is difficult, if not impossible, for any manufacturer to operate profitably without the goodwill of the people among whom he operates. We try to locate where that goodwill exists, and then do our honest best to continue to deserve it."

We believe that the people of our community fill these requirements, not because they are required, but because it is just being ourselves—the things they specify are ours by heritage and nature.

And we believe that a company like Rockwell will deserve our goodwill because it is just that kind of a company.

We welcome Mr. Rockwell and his company to our community.

It will not be long after it settles here that the Rockwell Manufacturing Company will be "our company," too.

Come In!

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

WE'RE RIGHT PLEASED with ourselves. This morning we wrote one check and two letters and were alert enough to write the date correctly: "January 3, 1956." That gives us confidence to begin the year, gives us the feeling that age is not tearing us down too fast.

HERE'S SOMETHING to begin the new year with. Have you ever asked yourself: "How Much Should I Owe?" Of course a good answer is no more than your income. Another answer is as much as the bank and merchants will allow.

But there's more to it than that. According to "Changing Times," the Kiplinger Magazine, here are four rules set up by bankers and professional credit men to guide those who desire or are forced to live on future earnings:

1. The total amount one should owe should not go much beyond 20 per cent of a year's income.
2. One should not owe more than the amount that 10 per cent of his income will pay off within 12 to 24 months.
3. Debts should not total more than a third of one's income that is left after paying for food, clothing, and shelter.
4. The limit of monthly installment one is paying should not exceed 20 to 25 per cent of one's take-home pay.

BEEN WONDERING who "Gene Fletcher" is—the writer who has been furnishing us

They deserve our high praise

This week we toss up our best-up hat for the officers and members of the board of directors of the Bulloch County Development Corporation.

For months they have been working diligently to fulfill the anticipation of local business and the people of the county for industry—for a payroll to supplement our agricultural economy.

This month will see the completion of all the details for one of the nation's finest manufacturing plants to move in and utilize the magnificent plant we have built in our county.

And so for Thad Morris and those who have worked so diligently with him we say "well done."

The Bulloch County Development Corporation has filled a great responsibility in our community and it will continue to do so. Those who have a share in its purpose want to perpetuate the fine work it is doing.

It is deserving of our highest praise.

It Seems To Me

By Max Lockwood

Before many days have passed a young man in Georgia will make a decision which will affect the lives of every person living in Georgia and in the South. The thoughts which follow come as a result of that thinking. In these words many of you will realize that a hard decision has been made.

We have in our midst today a young man who is a leader. There are some sections of the nation which will not accept this fact. For many years now we in the South have accepted ourselves according to how our friends in certain areas would accept our thinking. As a result of this type of thinking we have seen ourselves legislated into a position where we have lost our sovereignty.

In a few months the people of Georgia will select a representative for a six-year term in the United States Senate. It is important that a person be selected who is close to the people of Georgia. It is important that a person be selected who can and will stand to be heard and will express to the nation in language which can be understood how the people of Georgia feel concerning the problems of Georgia.

It is possible that he will not be a candidate. It is possible that not enough Georgians have told him how they feel. It is possible that many of the newspapers have convinced him that they have spoken for the people of Georgia. The same newspapers which attacked his father before him, which fought him during his administration and which have continued to do so until they follow him to his grave. They thought to swing the vote away from him and time and time again the thinking people of Georgia refused to be intimidated.

Should he choose to be a candidate he shall face opposition in a great and noble Georgian. It will be a difficult choice to make. It will be a difficult choice to wage and with victory no shouts of rejoicing would be forthcoming.

There is a time when a man must place the welfare of his state before himself. There is a time when one must forget himself and time and time again the thinking people of Georgia refused to be intimidated.

At hand.

Walter George has given the people of this state years of service. He has given years of leadership and courage to the people of these United States. There are none who will deny the role he plays in world affairs. He has been a man who has come to counsel with him and the leaders of the nation.

There is no reason why he cannot continue to give them counsel. There is no reason why he cannot continue to serve his country by offering his service in the Cabinet of the President of the United States. Such an offer would not be refused. The people of Georgia love Walter

George. Only a moron or a fool would raise his voice against him.

Today a decision must be made for Georgia. It is true that this decision may be a selfish one but if we in Georgia desire to preserve for ourselves and our loved ones the way of life as we know it then we have but one choice to make. We must stand to Washington a man who will be in a position to devote his energies and his determination toward the interests which will best serve the people of our great state. These things which he must do may not be popular in the eyes of those who seek to destroy our sovereignty but we must stand to Washington a man who will be in a position to devote his energies and his determination toward the interests which will best serve the people of our great state.

Today we live in Georgia today a great leader. That this is true has been proven beyond all doubt. It is my hope that the voters of this state will not be influenced by those who would sell us out to our enemies.

Today we look to one who loves his Georgia and we hope and pray that he will let us know his decision. He will say that he stands ready to serve the people of his state.

And so we pause and wait, we wait for Herman Talmadge to make his decision. Please, Mr. Talmadge, don't make us wait too long.

This Week's Meditation

By Rev. J. W. Grooms

HOW TO HAVE A HAPPY NEW YEAR—TEXT: "Happy is the man that findeth wisdom." Proverbs 3:13.

"Happy New Year." This is the New Year wish we make for our friends. It is no less the wish we cherish for ourselves. It is a good wish to make, and a good wish to cherish; but trying to bring its fulfillment in others' lives and in our own lives is better than the mere wishing.

There are wrong sources of supposed happiness to which people are liable to resort. FIRST and above all, I say if we are to be happy we must not follow the will-o-the-wisp of sinful indulgence. No one, in any measure, can be happy who transgresses God's law of life. "The wages of sin is death." The average person knows well when they are living contrary to the will of God. It is unwise. "Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore let us get wisdom." This does not necessarily mean learning from books as good as that is. I believe I know some people who have learned much in scholastic achievement but yet are very unhappy.

NOW, THERE, are some positive ways in which happiness can be won. Solomon helps us here. In the 128th Psalm he says, "Blessed is everyone that feareth the Lord; that walketh in his ways. For thou shalt eat the labor of thine hands: happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee." You will note the Psalmist is emphasizing the doctrine of "fear the Lord, and walking in his ways." The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. So we can well see that happiness comes by overcoming sin. Sin indulged in mars happiness, so sin overcome increases happiness. With a clear conscience, a pure heart and a sense of the content with evil well fought, happiness is secured.

STATESBORO ABOUT 1875 THE TOWN was known as "The Borough" and an old wooden courthouse, no jail, three wooden saloons and one store, run by Mr. B. J. Sims, together with three shacks used for boarding houses, comprised the buildings of the town.

My grandfather, Charlie Fletcher, had his home located on the western side of the town, near the Alfred Dorman residence now stands, and "Uncle" Dave Proctor's home, on the southeastern side of town, comprised the near residential section.

IN SHORT, perhaps we parents and teachers need other things as much or more than just being pleasant. Maybe our resolutions should include strictness. The strictness should apply first of all to us. which they didn't quarrel, because Woodrum had an appetite like a horse, he would approach "Uncle Jake's" only to be met at the door and handed a quarter of a dollar and told, "Bill go over yonder and eat with old Grinner." When Woodrum approached the Grinner eating emporium he would be met and handed a 25 cent piece, probably out of pure meanness and told, "Bill, here take this quarter, and go over yonder and eat with old Jake."

"Aunt" Grannie, the good wife of "Uncle" Jake, would wait on your plate and say, "Have a biscuit."

GRANDMOTHER, Sallie Fletcher, ran an eating house in a log cabin located about where the rear end of the Minkovitz store now stands. The regular price of cats at her place was 25 cents, like those at the "cater" run by Grinner and Nevils.

There was one exception to this however.

"UNCLE" DAVE ALDERMAN had a fish pond where what is now Rushing's Mill Pond, and on this occasion he brought in a string of fish from his pond and sold them to my grandmother for a dollar. The fish were to be fried to be served to the guests at dinner, who would be expected in after the horse races were pulled off on the "Race Paths," which consisted of two roads running parallel, where North Main street now runs, and after they had engaged in a few fist-cuffs and also took a few drinks at the neighboring saloon.

IT WAS a common thing to see leading farmers at court barefooted, and the young women only wore shoes when they would go to church on Sunday, the rule being they would go barefooted until they approached near the "meeting house" and sit down on a log and put on their shoes and home-knit stockings.

The rule being when preaching was over, the congregation would distribute itself to the nearby houses for dinner, where just before the meal was announced ready a decanter of whiskey would be placed on the water shelf and everybody would take a drink, including the preacher.

It looks high priced

...but it's the '56 Chevrolet!

THE NEW BEL AIR SPORT COUPE—one of 19 high-priced-looking Chevrolet models.

Who wouldn't mistake this handsome new Chevrolet for a high-priced car! It looks strictly "upper bracket" with its bold new Motoramic styling... its longer, lower hood... its proud new grille that spans the full front end. Even the details would do credit to an expensive car... like the sleek, high-fashion taillights (the left one hides the gas cap!). But, even beyond the costly appearance of its Fisher Body, Chevy gives the high-priced cars a run for their money. For it's one of the few great road cars built today! It brings you the added security of nailed-down stability on turns and lightning acceleration for safer passing. Horsepower now ranges all the way up to 205! All engines now have hydraulic-hushed valve lifters. Of course, Chevrolet has safety door latches in all models. In addition, you can have seat belts, with or without shoulder harness, and instrument panel padding at extra cost. There's a new Chevrolet just made for you. So come in and highway-test it.

"Willie Wredhand" Says

A Better Life in 1956!

The beginning of the New Year always brings thoughts around to new hopes for better things in life.

Perhaps your home has been one of the thousands in Georgia brightened by the addition of a new electrical appliance—the result of a gift of a loved one—and you are looking ahead to the enjoyment its many wonderful uses will afford you.

One of the great miracles of modern living is electricity, and all of the things it will perform for today's industrial, home and farm life. Electric power has been of valuable assistance to people everywhere in giving them extra "helping" to share their work load at amazingly low costs.

The 41 Rural Electric Cooperatives in Georgia strive in their day-to-day operations to bring you more electric power at lower costs.

Georgia's Rural Electric Cooperatives are owned by the very same 240,000 consumers they serve. The thousands of people who share in the electric uses of co-op power reap the benefits through lower costs. Thousands of other electric power users in Georgia get low-cost electricity because of the competitive "yardstick" of co-op power.

It's the free and competitive democratic process in its truest form—everyday Georgia citizens working together to enjoy the benefits of low-cost electricity.

FUEL STORAGE

Extension Service agricultural engineers say fuel storage should be at least 10 feet from any other building. They point out that underground storage is best, and add that the container should be on concrete piers if above ground.

COST OF PRODUCTION

Cost of production is the main consideration for profitable beef production in 1956, according to livestock specialists at the College of Agriculture Extension Service. "If Georgia farmers can produce an abundance of high quality feed cheaply," they say, "it is not anticipated that there would be any price advantage in going out of beef production into the production of other farm products."

BEE COLONIES DECREASE

In 1954 there were 305,000 colonies of bees on Georgia farms, according to the Beekeepers' Association. The number dropped to 189,000—a loss of 116,000 colonies. W. E. Neville, Extension Service apiculturist, says the total loss, however, is much more than just losing 116,000 colonies of bees. He points out that this loss is small when compared to the loss of producers if bees are not used for pollination of cotton and other crops.

MISS DEBORAH PRATHER WEDS RAYMOND MITCHELL

Miss Deborah Prather became the bride of George Raymond Mitchell Jr., in a candlelight ceremony Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Statesboro Primitive Baptist Church.

Elder V. F. Agan, of Decatur, former pastor of the Statesboro Church, performed the ceremony before a background of palms and Commode fern with arrangements of white gladioli stock, and white chrysanthemums cascaded with white satin ribbon and frosted wedding bells, interspersed with myriads of candles.

The family pews were marked with chrysanthemum clusters of wedding bells, and satin bows.

Nuptial Music

Mrs. John Woodcock of Gainesville, aunt of the bride, played a violin selection, "Trauerzeit," as the guests were arriving. Mrs. W. S. Hanner, organist, presented a program of wedding music prior to the vows. Mr. Jack Averitt, soloist, sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love Thee." At the conclusion he sang "O Perfect Love."

Mrs. Mitchell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson Prather of Statesboro. Mr. Mitchell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Mitchell of Atlanta.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white antique silk closed in back with covered buttons. The high Empire bodice was designed with a deeply rounded neckline with scroll embroidery.

Her maternal grandmother, Mrs. W. R. Woodcock, chose navy crepe. Mrs. Perry, maternal grandmother of the bride, wore light blue crepe. All wore coronas of white carnations.

Christmas decorations were used throughout the home.

Hot chocolate, cakes, cookies, toasted nuts and mints were served.

Among out-of-town guests were Bob Hadd, Smith's roommate, and Jim Thompson of Guyton. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Weber of Statesville, N. C., Forty guests called during the evening.

BETA SIGMA PHI JOIN IN CHRISTMAS PARTY

During the holidays, members of Alpha Omega and Xi Sigma chapters of Beta Sigma Phi held their annual Christmas party at the American Legion home.

After an enjoyable turkey dinner, served by Clinton Anderson, the high spot of the party was reached as the floor show, emceed by "B" Carroll, got underway. Mrs. Keith Clements sang a number of Christmas songs accompanied by Mrs. Carroll Herrington.

Linda Bean took the spot as she exhibited her superb twirling talent with the baton. Bill Adams, accompanied by Linda Bean rendered several vocal numbers. Jan Futch and "B" Carroll gave their version of the modern waltz.

Secret sisters were revealed in the exchange of gifts. Sixty-five members and husbands attended.

LUNCHEON EIGHT CLUB ENTERTAIN HUSBANDS

Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen was the scene of a merry party New Year's Eve as the members of the Luncheon Eight entertained their husbands.

They were served shrimp cocktail, ribbon salad, hors d'oeuvres, relishes, hot rolls, smothered chicken, string beans and for dessert, lemon chiffon pie.

The party progressed to the Fred Smith home on North Main. Here with coffee, were nut cakes, fruit cakes, and salted nuts. They watched television and New Year's Eve celebrations on Times Square.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Braswell Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Inman Foy Sr., Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Olliff, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith.

RECEPTION AT FOREST HEIGHTS COUNTRY CLUB

Immediately after the wedding the reception was held at the country club.

The bride's table was covered with white and white and white with white cover and white gandy skirt, was a centerpiece of red carnations flanked by five branched candelabra with white tapers.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. Wilbur Woodcock, Mrs. Harry McElveen of Savannah, Kenneth of Port, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Trappnell and Mrs. Harry Hunter, Sylvia, Mr. and Mrs. George Harting and Mrs. Elton Lowe of Savannah, Mrs. Peter H. Haden of Atlanta, Becky and Wilene Brannen.

Mrs. Peter J. Haden has returned to Atlanta after visiting her nephew, W. W. Brannen and family.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR STARR-BRASWELL WEDDING JANUARY 15

Plans for the marriage of Miss Jean L. Starr and Mr. Belton H. Braswell have been completed and friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend the wedding which will be held at the First Methodist Church, Claxton, Georgia, January 15, at four o'clock in the afternoon. The reception will immediately follow the ceremony at the American Legion Home in Claxton.

HOLIDAY FESTIVITIES THROUGH NEW YEAR'S DAY

Lt. and Mrs. W. S. Hanner Jr. were entertained informally at open house by their parents during the early part of the holiday season at their home on College Street.

The Christmas theme was carried out throughout the home with green and gold predominating in the living room. Red and silver prevailed in the dining room. The decorations were adapted to the lovely period furniture and accessories used.

1st Federal to hold annual meet

Mrs. Jesse O. Averitt, secretary of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Statesboro, announced today the association's annual meeting to be held at its office on Courtland street, on Wednesday, January 18, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Farm outlook

higher consumer spending, increased exports, government expenditures, population growth, and increased consumer credit.

The report includes outlook information on major commodities grown in Georgia, and also features a section on the outlook for family living. Sutton said he hoped farm families will attend county meetings where information is discussed, read about it in their newspapers, discuss it with their county and home demonstration agents, and otherwise make use of the material planning for farm and home development in 1956.

The number of already been sent in an intense interest in the search for the "Outstanding Young Farmer" award. If you have not yet nominated a young farmer, do so immediately.

The award, which is to be an annual affair, will be presented to the young farmer selected by a panel of judges, at a special meeting of the Jaycees on the night of January 17.

The deadline is the state contest and the winner of the state contest will be entered in the national contest with an all-expense paid trip to Pittsburgh, Pa.

The local Jaycees urge anyone desiring to nominate a young farmer please turn their nomination form after it has been completed to County Agent Byron Dyer, Imman P. Jr., or G. C. Coleman Jr. Nominations must be secured from the county agent's office, or any Farm Bureau district.

The deadline is noon Saturday, January 14. "Time is short, so get your nomination in as soon as possible," the sponsors say.

Mayor W. A. (Bill) Bowen at the same time announced that he is officially proclaiming that week as Junior Chamber of Commerce Week in Statesboro, and is asking local organizations to cooperate in the observance of it.

Mayor Bowen pointed out that the purpose of the special week is to focus attention on young men in business and the work they are doing, with emphasis on the outstanding job they are doing locally in the fields of youth activity, welfare service, and governmental affairs.

At the same meeting, honoring the Jaycee past presidents, Bulloch County's Outstanding Young Farmer of 1955 will be presented and honored.

Miss Sandra Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harrison, the Statesboro winner of the 1955 Voice of Democracy contest held annually by the Jaycees, will be presented the Voice of Democracy Award, following her presentation of "I Speak for Democracy."

Civic leaders and local government officials will be guests of the Jaycees at the special meeting.

The National Jaycee organization has been serving the nation since January 21, 1920. It came after Henry Gieseler saw the need for a young man's civic group and organized the first chapter in St. Louis, Mo., in 1915.

The Statesboro Jaycees were organized in 1939 with Josh Lanier as the first president. He served 1939-1940. The other presidents are: Talmadge Ramsey, 1940-41; Hoke Brunson, 1941-42; Paul Franklin Jr., 1942-43; Wendell Burke, 1943-44; Earl McElveen, 1944-45; Bob Donaldson, 1945-46; J. Brantley Johnson, 1946-47; Horace McDougald, 1947-48; E. A. "Nattie" Allen, 1948-49; Buford Knight, 1949-50; W. R. Dub Lovett, 1950-51; Charlie Robbins, 1951-52; Joe Neville, 1952-53; H. P. Jones Jr., 1953-54; E. L. Anderson Jr., 1954-55; and G. C. Coleman Jr., now serving the term 1955-56.

Those who graduated before 1917 will not receive letters, for that is the year Miss Mary Lou began teaching in the high school, though she taught in the schools before then. That also is the year Mr. Monts came here.

However, those of you who graduated prior to 1917, or were in any way associated with the school, are invited to make a contribution may do so by sending a check or cash to J. Brantley Johnson, assistant cashier, The Bulloch County Bank, Statesboro.

Additional information will be published as the project develops.

A Proclamation

WHEREAS, the civic bodies and service organizations of our community and departments of the local government recognize the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce; and

WHEREAS, the affiliated state and community chapter of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce have set aside the week of January 14 to January 21, to observe the founding of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; and

WHEREAS, this organization of young men through projects of community betterment is building leadership within its ranks for the future of our city;

THEREFORE, I, William A. Bowen, Mayor of the City of Statesboro do hereby proclaim the week of January 14-21, 1956, as JAYCEE WEEK and urge all citizens of our community to give full consideration to the future services of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

(s) WILLIAM A. BOWEN, Mayor

Dated January 12, 1956.

Jaycees to honor past Presidents Tues. night

G. C. Coleman, president of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced today that the local Jaycees will honor the club's past presidents in a special meeting to be held at the country club Tuesday, night, January 17.

Mr. Coleman stated that the special honor to the past presidents is part of the local club's participation in National Junior Chamber of Commerce Week in Statesboro, January 14-21, being observed all over the nation.

Mayor W. A. (Bill) Bowen at the same time announced that he is officially proclaiming that week as Junior Chamber of Commerce Week in Statesboro, and is asking local organizations to cooperate in the observance of it.

Mayor Bowen pointed out that the purpose of the special week is to focus attention on young men in business and the work they are doing, with emphasis on the outstanding job they are doing locally in the fields of youth activity, welfare service, and governmental affairs.
